DEMOCRATS TO PLAY 'PROGRESSIVE' ROLE

Murphy, Taggart, Ralston and Others Develop Strategy at French Lick.

TARIFF CHIEF ISSUE

Conferees Sent Out Word to Capitalize Unrest in All States.

WILL FIGHT FOR BONUS

Tammany Chief Delighted by Homage Shown by Resort Tourists.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD, FRENCH LICK, IND., Nov. 16.—Democratic national and State leaders, here for their post-election conference, have agreed on a tentative working program as follows: Seize the tariff quickly and play it as the big issue for the 1924 campaign.

Make the Democratic minority in Congress and the Democratic State administrations throughout the nation more progressive than they have been and seek to capitalize the spirit of unrest in the country for party purposes.

Charles F. Murphy, Tammany leader, and his associates who are here for rest and political introspection, have been hearing to-day from the Democratic representatives in many parts of the country.

The informal conferences now being held on golf links and around the mineral springs appear to be more than mere accident. While they all insist that their meeting is accidental, they all appear to have known of the opportune moment for arriving for political discussion.

Samuel M. Ralston, Democratic Senator elect from Indiana, who defeated Beveridge; A. F. Mullen of Nebraska,

His Patronage at Zero and Also His Promises

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD, Washington, D. C., Nov. 16.

REPRESENTATIVE GRAHAM (Ill.), resented, filed to-day his campaign expense account, which showed nothing received and nothing spent. On the back of it he wrote this: "Owing to the fact that all the Senators from my State have absorbed all the Federal patronage and the damned fool alleged civil service order of the President has prevented me from naming postmasters while it makes me responsible for these appointments, I have thought it the better part of discretion to promise nobody anything, and hence I am as virtuous as a new born babe as far as promises are concerned. I have made none."

formerly national committeeman and member of the Democratic National Executive Committee; Walter S. Chambers, chairman of the Indiana Democratic State Committee; Dale Chittenden, chairman of the Indiana Democratic State Committee; and half a dozen other State leaders in the Middle West have been telling Murphy and the New York leaders what the election means in the Middle and Far West.

They have all read with deep interest Mayor Hylan's statement to-day in Chicago that if neither of the old parties is sufficiently progressive and does not offer a real progressive candidate in 1924 there is bound to be a third party with Hearst, Hiram Johnson or a man of their type as the candidate.

They also were much interested in the article in The New York Herald of Wednesday, which came this afternoon, telling of the demand for a third party if the Republicans fail to reform their policies.

After hearing of this kind of talk from all parts of the country, Mr. Murphy is said to be inclining strongly toward progressivism. He is being urged to use all his influence to steer the Al Smith administration along progressive lines to keep that State in line for the next big party contest.

Taggart Talks Progressivism. Tom Taggart is talking progressivism. The Indiana political leader declares that with Ralston in the Senate he will be found in line for the new policies. Indiana and New York will join in taking the initiative to record the Democratic party for the progressive policies which they intend to make the party's platform two years hence.

Seeking to blanket the Borah-La Follette-Johnson group of liberals in the Republican party the Democratic delegations in the Senate and House will be found within the next few weeks advocating these policies. If the advice of the French Lick Springs conference is followed:

Demand that the Fordney-McCumber tariff act be revised. There is to be a determined and bitter attack on that measure from all quarters.

Demand for a soldier bonus in some form. The middle and far West leaders are strong for the bonus, but admit they do not know how the money is to be raised.

The ship subsidy measure must be beaten. The Democrats insist and will advise their delegations in Washington.

Farmer Seeks Relief.

Western States insist that one of the most urgent and important needs of the Democratic party is to be set right for the next national campaign in legislation which will improve conditions for the farmer. The farmer is said to be in a bad way and the Democratic party must prove itself his friend.

"The Democratic party can be and will be sufficiently progressive to meet the needs of the country," Mr. Mullen said. "There is no danger of a third party as far as we are concerned."

"We were frostbitten two years ago, but a new bud has formed and gives promise of fruition in the not far future," Mr. Taggart said.

Mr. Murphy has assured the Democrats here they need have no worry about New York State keeping abreast of the progressive wave with Smith in the State Capitol and Hylan in City Hall.

That has provoked many smiles here. The Tammany chief, assailed and defended in many national conventions as the arch reactionary of the nation, has told the Western Democrats that they can do no better if they want a safe guidepost for their progressivism than to watch New York for the next year or two.

With Al Smith a candidate for the Democratic nomination and confiding with Hylan for progressive honors the New York Democratic managers declare they are going to make a record which will surprise even Kansas.

Harmonizing Meeting Suggested. Too much stress cannot be laid on keeping the State and municipal administrations in line with the national policy, the managers declare. It was suggested to-day that it would be a good idea to have a meeting of the national committee or some kind of gathering for the expression and coordination of Democratic doctrine that the State administrations may proceed along the same lines and in harmony with the spirit of the "New Democracy" in Congress. Such may be the outcome of the conferences here.

Mr. Murphy had a good day on the golf links and was in high spirits tonight. Sam Harris, Tom Foley and Honest John Kelly of New York were in his foursome. There is more interest in Mr. Murphy than in any other notable at the resort. He is pointed out whenever he appears as the "head of Tammany Hall" and scores of persons have sought introductions simply because they wanted to say they had met him. He seems to like it. But when not on the links—next to politics his ruling love seems to be golf—the Tammany chief is either in the sulphur baths or his room. Tom Foley is the hardest worker at exercising. He takes a two or three hour walk in the forenoon and plays eighteen holes of golf in the afternoon. John O'Brien, the new surrogate, is the champion mineral water drinker, but isn't reducing an ounce.

WOMEN WILL EDUCATE THEIR SEX IN VOTING

Westchester League Listens to Plea Against Party Lines.

More than 200 prominent women attended a non-partisan conference of the League of Women Voters of Westchester county in the White Plains High School auditorium yesterday, which resolved to carry on definite education of women in proper voting.

One feature was the reading by Mrs. Casner Whitney of a letter from Gov. Miller which had been sent to Mrs. Charles A. Whitney of Albany and forwarded to White Plains.

The Governor wrote: "Education and citizenship are joined by a bond which cannot be severed without fatal injury to both. Citizenship without instruction loses its way and is taken captive by the demagogue; scholarship relieved of political duties loses contact with reality and withers itself completely."

County committee women, Democratic and Republican, were present. Mrs. Frank A. Vanderlip of Scarborough and Mrs. Whitney, State and county chairman, presided.

Miss Mary Garrett Hay said women should start an improvement in the organization of the different political parties. They should speak what they think and vote for the best candidate irrespective of party, she said. Mrs. William H. Ives, secretary of the Republican State Committee, said that political parties are working all the year instead of just before election.

At the morning session Henry R. Barrett, secretary of the Westchester County Republican Committee, and Oscar Le Roy Warren, chairman of the Democratic committee, spoke. Other speakers were Katrina Ely Tiffany, Harriet May Mills, Mrs. T. B. Colbert and Miss Mary Schuyler Hamilton.

WOMEN DEMOCRATS LOSE FEDERAL JOBS

Rafferty Denies Acting Because They Held Jubilee.

John T. Rafferty, Collector of Internal Revenue in Brooklyn, dropped from his list of employees yesterday Lisette G. Falconer, Stacia Delury, Belle Lang and Marian MacDonald, deputies, who are Democrats.

Rafferty denied that he had dropped the women because they participated in an impromptu celebration of the Democratic landslide, at the Federal Building in Brooklyn. He stated that Republicans are entitled to the jobs, which are not in civil service classification.

MCCOY GOES ON "REST."

John H. McCoy, Democratic leader of Kings county, has gone to Atlantic City, where he will spend a week recovering from his work in the recent campaign, and, incidentally, to prepare a tentative list of appointees for the newly elected State administration. Mr. McCoy stated that he would not meet any of the political leaders while he was away. Others, however, stated that the appointment list was to be prepared in Atlantic City.
